ROOSEVELT'S ATTACK ON SENATOR TILLMAN

Secret Service Report Involves South Carolina Senator in Oregon Land Grab Scandal.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 8.—By direction of President Roosevelt, secret service men shadowed Senator Tillman of South Carolina, on the theory that he possibly was interested in an Oregon land grab, and the result of that investigation is now before the Senate.

The information was contained in a communication from President Roosevelt sent in response to a request made by Senator Hale to the heads of the executive department for a statement of the activities of secret service operatives. Exhaustive replies were made by the various departments and all of these were forwarded to Senator Hale by the President. They have not been made public and Senator Hale announced that they would not be given out until after they had been considered by a sub-committee of the committee on appropriations, which will be charged with the duty of acting upon that portion of the President's annual message relating to the secret service and criticizing members of Congress for their restriction of its use.

Soon after President Roosevelt's communication to Senator Hale was received at the capitol it became known that it contained a reflection upon a senator from a Southern State. The name of the senator in question was not divulged for a time and as a result the atmosphere of the Senate was surcharged with curiosity and much speculation. When it finally became known that Senator Tillman was the member named, further efforts to procure information concerning the character of the charge were made, but they were without avail.

Through the fact that several senators had advanced information of the character of the report which was to be sent to the Senate it was learned that the investigation of Senator Tillman followed an attack which he made in the Senate nearly a year ago upon an Oregon land company which had used his name as one of the persons interested in the concern. Previous to that attack Senator Tillman had introduced a resolution directing the attorney-general to prosecute suits against an Oregon railroad corporation which had received land grants in the late sixties for a line from a California point to Portland, Oregon. Mr. Tillman had said that the use of his name was without authority and as a result it is declared that several persons interested in the land grants became angered.

Some of the interested parties are reported to have sent to President Roosevelt copies of letters alleged to have been written by Senator Tillman indicating that he had an interest either in one of the land companies or would be benefited through the land companies obtaining possession of the grants in question. After receiving this information it is said President Roosevelt directed a secret service operative to investigate the part Senator Tillman was alleged to have in the land cases.

The report sent to the Senate is understood to contain an account of the investigation made of Senator Tillman. It is known that the secret service prepared photographic copies of Senator Tillman's correspondence, but whether these exhibits were sent to Senator Hale is not known. Senator Tillman was not aware of the fact that his name figured in the reports until late today. He then took pains to assure himself that the reports containing the mention of himself were well founded, but he refused to comment upon the fact further than to say that he would not make any statement until the fact of the use of his name had been officially promulgated, when he would address himself to the subject from his seat in the Senate. It is known, however, that Mr. Tillman regards the mention of his name as an attack upon himself by the President, and he has indicated to friends that he will not mince matters in his reply. He also had declared to those with whom he conversed that he would welcome the opportunity to express his views and explain the situation.

It is probable Mr. Tillman will be heard on Monday next.

On February 19, 1908, Senator Tillman rose in the Senate to a question of personal privilege and said that his attention had been called to a scheme of swindling in which his name had been used rather unpleasantly and without the slightest warrant. The Senator held in his hand a circular headed "How to make $5,000 out of $2,000."

This circular called attention to certain land grants in Oregon and to the activity of Senator Tillman in having the Senate investigate them. It stated that "Senator Tillman takes eleven quarters," and that the law suits to be instituted in order to recover these lands were promised to be pressed with great vigor, because Senator Tillman was behind them. Commenting upon this situation, Senator Tillman at that time said:

"As a matter of fact, I have not bought any lands anywhere in the West, nor undertaken to buy any. I have made some inquiries, as one naturally would in roaming through the West. I simply want the people of the country to be put on notice that this swindler at Portland has no warrant whatever for endeavoring to inveigle others into his game."

banker, arrived here from Monterey more than two weeks ago to begin an investigation of the forgery, and found that President William G. Henshaw, of the Union Savings Bank of this city, held four notes drawn on the Kansas City Bank, in Henshaw's favor, and purporting to be signed by Murray, the notes totalling $400,000.

Murray at once pronounced these notes forgeries. He presented the matter to the district attorney, and a warrant for the arrest of Signor was issued.

Signor surrendered and made a full confession. Henshaw declared that Signor has not profited a dollar by the forgeries.

OAKLAND, Cal., Jan. 8.—Details of the forgery of James H. Murray's name to notes and documents aggregating nearly $1,000,000, which led last night to the arrest of F. B. Signor, promotor and mining broker of this city, have come to light.

THE PRESIDENT IS NOW ROASTED

Special House Committee
Gets Back at Him.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 8.—Having given consideration to the President's further views regarding the secret service, contained in his message to the House of Representatives last Monday, the special committee appointed to deal with the subject today brought in its final report.

Accompanying it was a resolution which declared it to be the sense of the House that it shall decline to consider any communication from any source which is not respectful, recommending that the objectionable portion of the President's annual message be laid on the table, and that similar action be taken with respect to the message of last Monday, because of its being "unresponsive to the inquiry of the house" as to what the President meant when he said, referring to the limitation placed upon the field of operations of the secret service, and that "the chief argument in favor of the provision was that Congressmen did not themselves wish to be investigated."

When Chairman Perkins of New York, of the special committee, arose to make his report he faced almost the full membership, while the galleries were packed with interested spectators. Representatives Tawney and Smith (Iowa), Sherley and Fitzgerald were on the floor prepared by word of mouth to resist what they deemed to be insinuations of the President upon them as members of this committee on appropriations. They were not alone in their indignation. Indeed, for some time past the feeling of members had been growing more and more intense, and some of them have been giving away to their sentiments in language which fully testified to their wounded pride.

PATTERSON'S HEAD BEAT INTO JELLY

ROBERT FRASIER WARNS HIM TO STAY AWAY FROM HIS HOME.

Patterson Has Policeman Owens to Take Charge of Frasier, Who Will Be Tried Monday.

John Patterson is now wearing a bandaged head as a result of a severe drubbing which was administered to him on Thursday evening by Robert Frazier, who had repeatedly warned him not to visit his place.

It seems that Patterson and his wife had separated and the wife was employed by Frazier to do his cooking. Patterson on Thursday filled up on "booze" and went around to the house and sought an interview with his wife, when Frazier appeared on the scene with a big stick and pounded him in a manner that made his head resemble a sandwich run through a sausage mill.

Frazier claims that Patterson has been coming around and raising trouble ever since he hired the woman, and he had often asked that Patterson stay away from the place, but every time he could get hold of whiskey he would come around looking for trouble.

Their troubles will be aired together in mayor's court Monday.

EIGHT NIGHT RIDERS FOUND GUILTY MURDER

Six of the Outlaws Will Be Hanged and Two Will Serve 20 Years Each.

UNION CITY, Tenn., Jan. 8.—With a verdict of guilty in various degrees, the jury in the night rider trials reported Thursday.

The twelve men found Garrett Johnson, Ted Burton, Roy Ransom, Fred Pinion, Arthur Cloar and Sam Applewhite guilty of murder in the first degree, with mitigating circumstances, and Bud Morris and Bob Huffman, the other defendants guilty of murder in the second degree and fixed their punishment at twenty years in the penitentiary.

The punishment of the six first named defendants was left to the court and may be death or life imprisonment. The defense filed a motion for a new trial which was set for hearing Saturday, and which will be overruled, as indicated by the court when sentence will be pronounced. The court will sentence the six first named defendants to death.

The jury had been out, but because of the illness of Juror Rosson, had not been able to consult for four hours. There was a difference of opinion among the jurors as to the degree of the guilt of the defendants, but an agreement was reached quickly.

Court was convened, and the jury sent word that it would be able to report shortly. The room was crowded as it was during the argument. The minutes passed and at 8:15 p.m., the bailiff called for the county physician. Juror Rosson was in a state of collapse and needed attention. It was half an hour before Rosson was revived. The jury filed in and six deputies were summoned to carry in the bed upon which the sick juror reclined.

The foreman announced the verdict. The defense called for a poll, which was made, and the judge dismissed the jurors. Rosson's condition is such that it was deemed inadvisable to move him. The defense demanded until Monday to move for a new trial, but the State opposed and the court fixed Saturday as the day, intimating that the motion was a mere form anyway, which would be overruled.

The defendants took the verdict with calmness, as they had been expecting it since the closing of the arguments. Attorney Pierce turned to them when it was announced and said: "We will tear this case to pieces in the supreme court."

The State expected a verdict of first degree murder in all eight cases and was visibly disappointed. Bob Huffman, one of the men to escape with twenty years, is the man who, according to confession of Frank Fehlinger, fired the shot which killed Capt. Rankin as he was being drawn up by the rope.

When the jury's readiness to report was announced the military quietly surrounded the court house and a detail of soldiers with revolver holsters open was deployed around the walls of the court room, but aside from a whispered buzz of conversation there was no demonstration. The prisoners were quickly handcuffed and under military escort were taken to prison. The verdict is considered a compromise one and no trouble is feared by the authorities.

Thus is ended, in the lower court, one of the most vigorously contested and notable criminal trials ever heard in this State, the outcome of a reign of lawlessness, the culminating act of which being that of which the men were found guilty, calling forth the militia of the State, under the personal direction of Gov. Patterson, to the aid of the civil authorities in the retarding out and taking into custody of those who were charged with the commission of the crime, the so-called "Night Rider Clan" of Reel Foot Lake.

BEXLEY AND OSTEEN WILL ASK FOR BAIL

ATTORNEYS FOR DEFENDANTS HAVE TAKEN PROPER STEP.

Witnesses Will Be Examined Before Judge Wills On January 18—Subpoenas Now Being Served.

Attorneys Broome and Thrasher, representing Bexley and Osteen, have obtained from Chief Justice Whitfield of the supreme court a writ of habeas corpus, returnable before Judge Wills, who has set Monday, January 18th at 2 p.m., for the hearing of the case.

The purpose of the writ is to secure bail for the petitioners, and it is expected that a large crowd will be here to attend this hearing.

There will be twenty or more witnesses examined at the trial and Sheriff Ramsey is now serving the subpoenas on the witnesses in different parts of the county.

The hearing will occur at the court house here, and the friends of the young men are confidently predicting that they will be granted bail.

MISSIONARY'S WIFE PRAISES CUTICURA

Daughter's Head Encrusted with Dandruff—Feared she Would Lose her Hair—Many Treatments were Futile—Baby had Milk-Crust.

BOTH CHILDREN CURED BY FAMOUS REMEDIES

"For several years my husband was a missionary in the Southwest, and we were living on the edge of the desert at an elevation of nearly five thousand feet. Every one in that high and dry atmosphere has more or less trouble with dandruff and my daughter's scalp became so encrusted with it that I was alarmed for fear she would lose all her hair, which was very heavy. After spending between five and six dollars for various remedies, in desperation I bought a cake of Cuticura Soap and a box of Cuticura Ointment. After rubbing the Cuticura Ointment thoroughly into the roots of the hair, I gently combed the crust of dandruff free from the scalp, and then gave her head a thorough shampoo with the Cuticura Soap. This left the scalp beautifully clean and free from dandruff, and after the hair was dry, I again rubbed the Cuticura Ointment, this time sparingly, into the roots, and I am happy to say that the Cuticura Remedies were a complete success. My troubles with dandruff were over, although for a long time afterward I used the Cuticura Ointment as at first, after shampooing, which kept the scalp and roots of the hair moist. I have used successfully the Cuticura Remedies for so-called 'milk-crust' on baby's head, and have never found anything to equal them. You are at liberty to publish this letter, for I do sincerely believe that the Cuticura Remedies are a blessing to mankind. Mrs. J. A. Darling, 310 Fifth St., Carthage, Ohio, Jan. 20, 1908."

Cuticura Ointment is one of the most successful curatives for torturing, disfiguring humors of the skin and scalp, including loss of hair, ever compounded, in proof of which a single anointing with it, preceded by a hot bath with Cuticura Soap, and followed, when necessary, by a mild dose of Cuticura Reovident (liquid or pills) is often sufficient to afford immediate relief of itching, burning and scaly humors, eczemas, irritations and inflammations, permit rest and sleep, and point to a speedy cure when all else fails.

AMUSEMENTS

Electric Theatre.

It is to be regretted that the reel of Salome could not have been retained and the pictures shown again, as there are a number who did not see it Thursday night. However, if the Electric Theatre manager can secure it again, everyone will be advised of the fact.

For tonight there is a grand lot of pictures and on Monday night the fourth number of the High School Lyceum Course will be given. The attraction will be Dr. Jas. Hedley, a lecturer of great note and many years experience. The moving pictures will be shown as usual and the entertainment will be one you can not afford to miss.

The Lyceum Course.

In speaking of Dr. James Hedley, who will appear at the Electric Theatre Monday in connection with the High School Lyceum Course, Prof. A. W. Taylor of Des Moines, Ia., says:

"The first entertainment of the University Lecture Course was given by Dr. James Hedley in his wonderful lecture, 'Sunny Side of Life.' Twelve hundred people were waiting expectantly when this wonderful lyceum star appeared. Power, humor, pathos, satire, all the varied gifts of the lecturer, were brought into play, and the generous applause told how well the people enjoyed it. He has given the course an impetus, and will make it an easy matter to sell seats for the next attraction."

The Pickerts.

The Four Pickerts and Company will return to The New Baird Theatre Monday night for a three-nights' engagement, presenting as the first bill the thrilling drama, "The Night Riders."

In speaking of their recent visit to Lynchburg, Va., The Advertiser says:

"The Pickert Stock Company commenced a week's engagement at the Academy last night, playing at popular prices, before an audience that packed the theatre to its utmost capacity.

"The opening bill was the four-act drama, entitled, 'The Night Riders,' which proved far above the usual standard of repertoire shows, and met with the hearty approval of the large audience.

"The company also proved to be far better than the companies usually seen here at popular prices, and special praise is due Miss Blanche Pickert, who appeared in the leading female role. She is not only a clever young actress, but is also a very pretty young lady. In summing up, it may be said that the Pickert Company is easily the best repertoire company that has appeared at the Academy this season, and the indications are that they will enjoy a large patronage for the remainder of the week."

TELEPHONE TALKS

The Long Distance System

One of the most valuable features of our service, to our subscribers and to the public generally, is our connection with the extensive long distance lines of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company and the other associated Bell Telephone companies.

We own thousands of miles of long distance lines in the seven States in which we operate and in addition can connect any telephone in our system with lines extending to any other city in which a Bell Telephone system is operated.

These long distance lines are of the most modern and improved construction and are maintained at a high state of efficiency. The Bell systems, operating in various sections of the country, are uniform in their equipment and in their methods of operating.

Only by reason of this close traffic arrangement between the Bell Telephone companies is it possible to go to a Bell Telephone almost anywhere, ask for "Long Distance" and be put in communication with almost any point in the country.

This vast network of wires, radiating throughout the nation, is used daily in commerce and for social purposes by the banker, the farmer and citizens in all walks of life and our plant here is an important link in this great chain.

MISS DORIAN ELLIS HAS 101,425 VOTES
She Polled the Highest Vote Friday.

Another week of the great piano contest which is being conducted in Gainesville by several of the merchants and by The Daily Sun is near at hand. Interest in the same continues to increase.

When the contest was first started it was a rule that a person had seven days in which to vote his ballot, but that rule was changed by a majority of those connected in the contest, it being agreed that when ballot was issued it was to be voted before leaving the store. We note that in several instances this rule has been broken. We would respectfully call attention to this fact, and hope that the parties who have been doing it will refrain therefrom, as they will not be counted after this date.

Miss Florrie Strickland was among the number who received a large vote yesterday; in fact, she received the next highest to Miss Dorian Ellis.

The Way to His Vote.

Lord Beaconsfield's skill in picking up stray votes was well known. An illustration of it is given in a book by Henry W. Lucy.

At the time that the imperial titles bill was pending there was a certain pompous little Irishman, Dr. O'Leary, who seemed manageable and was desirable. One evening in the lobby Darrell laid a hand familiarly on his shoulder.

"Dear Dr. O'Leary, the resemblance is most striking," he said. "I really thought I saw again my old friend Tom Moore."

The vain little gentleman was captured.

He Hits Back.

There had been a domestic spat at breakfast.

"You monster!" snapped the matron, who was always scolding. "You are not like my two former husbands. They were tender men."

"I never doubted that they were tender, Maria," ventured the meek man, "when you kept them in hot water all the time." And he just cleared the front porch two yards ahead of the rolling pin.—Chicago News.

Selling "Carlyle."

Here is Whistler's story of how he sold his famous picture of Carlyle to the Glasgow corporation:

I received them, well, you know, charmingly, of course, and one who spoke for the rest asked me if I did not think I was putting a large price on the picture—1,000 guineas—and I said, "Yes, perhaps, if you will have it so."

And he said that it seemed to the council excessive. "Why, the figure was not even life size."

And I agreed.

"But, you know," I said, "few men are life size."

And that was all. It was an official occasion, and I respected it. Then they asked me to think over the matter until the next day, and they would come again. And they came. And they said, "Have you thought of the thousand guineas and what we said about it, Mr. Whistler?"

"And I said, "Why, gentlemen, why—well, you know, how could I think of anything but the pleasure of seeing you again?"

And naturally, being gentlemen, they understood, and they gave me a check for the thousand guineas.

The Great Circus.

The famous Coliseum in old Rome, massive as it was, was a mere toy in comparison with the great circus, which filled the valley between the Palatine and the Aventine hills. The Coliseum is said to have been able to seat 80,000 people, while the seating capacity of the great circus was, at different periods, 150,000, 250,000 and, lastly, 380,000 spectators. The great circus was probably the most stupendous building ever erected for public spectacles.—New York American.

How many think to atone for the evil they have done by the good they intend to do and are only virtuous in prospective!—Elliott.

Have not coughed once all day?

Yet you may cough tomorrow! Better be prepared for it when it comes. Ask your doctor about keeping Ayer's Cherry Pectoral in the house. Then when the hard cold or cough first appears you have a doctor's medicine at hand. Your doctor's approval of its use will certainly set all doubt at rest. Do as he says. J. C. NEGRO HAS NARROW ESCAPE FROM DEATH

ACCIDENT OCCURRED AT SAW MILL OF FLORIDA LAND CO.

Was Head Block Setter and Fell Distance of Fourteen Feet While Carriage Was Running.

Fred Johnson, a negro head block setter, narrowly escaped death Thursday while performing his regular duties at Montbrook.

Johnson, who is known here, was engaged at the sawmill plant of the Florida Land Company, located at Montbrook, and was in his place on the carriage when he happened to the accident that nearly cost him his life. In fact, it is a miracle how he escaped without being killed.

Like all modern mills, this one is located about fourteen feet above the ground, and the underneath work is generally filled with a good deal of belting and machinery, and it is a wonder that he escaped all this without meeting sudden death.

Fortunately for the negro, he escaped with a few bruises, except his right leg being broken just above the knee.

A Sporting Person.

The inhibition of a hunting rector by his bishop reminds a correspondent that the Rev. Jack Russell, the famous west country sporting parson, was once cited to appear before the bishop of Exeter to answer charges of neglecting his spiritual and parochial duties, and he was also remonstrated with for keeping and following a pack of hounds. The charges were proved unfounded, and Russell refused to give up the sport, which he continued to pursue almost to the day of his death in 1883, at the age of eighty-eight. Besides being an insatiable hunter, he was, as his biographer pitifully remarks, "a staunch supporter of Devonshire wrestlers, an admirable sparer and an enthusiastic upholder of the virtues of Devonshire cider and cream." And in the pulpit he tried to reform conduct rather than to expound doctrine and was a stern denouncer of bad language, strong drink and "the filthy habit of smoking."—St. James' Gazette.

Sarcasm in the Commons.

The reluctance of the house of commons to adjourn over Derby day recalls a story related of one of the Roman Catholic peers who took their seats some four or five years before the passage of the first reform bill after an exclusion of a century and a half. He gave notice that on a certain day he would make a certain motion, whereupon there arose from his noble colleagues a general cry of "Derby!" The astonished novice named another day, only to be greeted with an equally unanimous expostulation of "Oaks!" At this he explained that he would have to ask the forgiveness of their lordships; but, having been educated abroad, he was forced to acknowledge that he was not familiar with the list of saints' days in the Anglican calendar.

HELPFUL HINTS ON HAIR HEALTH

Scalp and Hair Troubles Generally Caused by Carelessness.

Dandruff is a contagious disease caused by a microbe which also produces baldness. Never use a comb or brush belonging to someone else. No matter how cleanly the owner may be, these articles may be infected with microbes, which will infect your scalp. It is far easier to catch hair microbes than it is to get rid of them, and a single stroke of an infected comb or brush often produces the cause of baldness. Never try on anybody else's hat for the reason that many a hatband is a nesting place for microbes.

If you happen to be troubled with dandruff, itching scalp, falling hair or baldness, we have a remedy which we positively know will cure these troubles, and we are so sure of this that we offer it to you with the understanding that it will cost you nothing for the trial if it does not produce the results we claim. This remedy is called Rexall "93" Hair Tonic. It is the most scientific remedy for all scalp and hair troubles, and we know of nothing else that equals it for effectiveness. We know this because of the results it has produced in hundreds of cases.

Rexall "93" Hair Tonic will positively banish dandruff permanently, restore natural color when its loss has been brought about by disease, and make the hair naturally silky, soft and glossy. It does this because it stimulates the hair follicles, removes dandruff, destroys the germ matter, and brings about a free, healthy circulation of blood which nourishes the hair roots, causing them to tighten and grow new hair. We want everybody in Gainesville who has any trouble with hair or scalp to know that Rexall "93" Hair Tonic is the best hair tonic and restorative in existence, and no one should scoff at or doubt this statement until they have put our claims to a fair test, with the understanding that they pay us nothing for the remedy if it does not give full and complete satisfaction in every particular. Two sizes, 50c and $1.00. J. W. McCollum & Co., corner East Main and Union streets.

DEVELOPING A STAR.

How Mansfield Coached Margaret Anglin as Roxane.

Richard Mansfield in his preparation for "Cyrano" was unsparing of himself, and he was unsparing of others. Everything he had and everything he hoped for was at stake. Struggle and desperation were in the air. Nearly every one in the cast resigned or was discharged over and over again. Mr. Palmer's days and nights were devoted to diplomacy, and, thanks to his suavity, the heady heat of the day before was forgotten in the cool of the next morning.

An actress of international reputation and experience was engaged for Roxane. Rehearsals were under way when she resigned by cable. The orange girl's single line in the first act was being rehearsed by a young Canadian, Margaret Anglin. Mansfield had not seen her act, but he remarked the wondrous loveliness of her voice, and his intuition told him she had temperament. "Can you make yourself look beautiful enough for Roxane?" he asked. "I think I might if you can make yourself ugly enough for Cyrano," she answered. The part was hers on the instant. He coached her relentlessly. Again and again she cried that she could not do it. He reassured her, but not with soft persuasions. "You can, my dear, and you must. Now, again!" After rehearsals she went regularly in tears to Mr. Palmer to resign. He appealed to Mansfield to be more lenient. "I am only kind," was his reply.

"Roxane is a great part. Only one who has suffered can play such a role. This girl has the temperament and the emotions, but she is young and inexperienced. I cannot persuade her spirit. I must rouse it." And every day she reached new depths and new heights.—Paul Willstach in Scribner's.

A GLUTTON FOR WORK.

Story of the British Civil Service In the Last Century.

The British civil service during the middle of the last century was a delightful place for young gentlemen who wished a "job" with nothing to do. Mr. Arthur W. A'Becket in his "Recollections of a Humorist" describes his first day in the war office. After reading the Times through—no short task—and listening to the conversation of his colleagues for awhile he ventured to address his chief.

"Can I do anything?" I asked. "Is there anything for me to do?"

He seemed a little perplexed. The other denizens of the room paused for a moment in their conversation to hear his reply. It seemed to me that they appeared to be amused. My chief looked at me and then at the papers in front of him.

"Ah!" said he at last, with a sigh of relief. "Are you fond of indexing?"

I replied I was fond of anything and everything that could be of the slightest service to my country. If those were not the exact words I used, that was the spirit of my answer.

"I see, a glutton for work," observed my chief, with a smile that found reflection on the faces of my other colleagues. "Well, A'Becket, just index this pile of circulars."

I seized upon the bundle and returned to my desk. Oh, how I worked at those circulars! There were hundreds of them, and I docketed them with the greatest care and entered their purport into a book. From time to time my official chief, so to speak, looked in upon me to see how I was getting on.

"I say," said he, "there's no need to be in such a desperate hurry. I am not in immediate need of the index. You can take your time, you know. Wouldn't you like a stroll in the park? Most of us have a little walk during the day. We none of us stand on ceremony and are quite a happy family."

But, no; I stuck to my indexing and after some three days of fairly hard work found my labors done. I took up the bundle of circulars, now in apple pie order, and laid them on my chief's desk.

"I say, A'Becket," said he, "this won't do. You are too good a fellow to be allowed to cut your own throat, and for your brother's sake I will give you a tip. Don't do more than you are asked to do. Now, I gave you those circulars to index because you would bother me for work. I didn't want the index. Now it's done it's not the least bit of use to me. Of course it may come in useful some day, but I scarcely see how it can, as the lot are out of date. But of course it may," he added to save my feelings.

Electors of each State will meet at their respective State capitals on January 11 to cast their votes for President and Vice-President of the United States, certify the results and select messengers to take the returns to Washington, where they will be formally canvassed by Congress on the second Wednesday in February.

If Sir Oliver Lodge succeeds in dispelling the notorious London fog by electricity, as he fully expects to do, the method may prove equally effective if applied to ocean fogs. Vessels are now so strongly constructed and so equipped with watertight compartments that nearly the only danger now confronting them is from fog and ice, and that from ice is usually due to fog. Therefore if fog can be dispelled within a reasonable radius of a ship any voyage can be made with almost perfect safety.

The Charlotte Observer says: "It seems that since Mississippi's State prohibition law went into effect Vicksburg's thirsty have been supplied from a saloon on a barge at the Louisiana side of the Yazoo canal, only 159 feet from the city proper. This beats even the relation of Augusta, Ga., to North Augusta, S. C. There is comparatively little likelihood, however, that the Yazoo canal will rival the Savannah river's performance of last summer in rising high and thereby causing terrible suffering on the dry side of the waterway."

The Springfield (Mass.) Republican says: "The postal savings bank bill is expected to meet with rough weather through the rest of this Congress session. One argument being used to sidetrack it is that it would affect existing banking arrangements when a national monetary commission is at work on plans of reorganization. But Eastern Republican senators are, as a rule, opposed to the scheme on its merits, and they are not at all disturbed in this position apparently by the fact that their party is pledged to the enactment of such a measure."

EDUCATION THE NEGRO NEEDS.

Judge Taft takes practically the same view of the kind of education the negro needs that Gov. Smith does, says The Savannah News. In a talk with clergymen at Augusta on Tuesday he said: "What they," the negroes, "need to be taught is the primary education and the industrial education to make them better workers, better skilled laborers and better farmers than they are today." Those of them who are to be teachers and preachers should of course be fitted for those callings, but the education that the vast majority of them require is the kind that would make them more capable in the various occupations in which they find employment. It is a common statement of those who employ negro labor, whether in the house, in the field or along the wharves and in business places, that they are steadily deteriorating. They are not as well fitted for the duties required of them as they were a few years ago and they are less inclined to work steadily.

There was a letter published a day or two ago in one of the Northern papers, written by a Northern man visiting a Louisiana sugar plantation, respecting labor conditions on the plantation. The plantation was being operated by Northern men. The tenor of the letter was that the negro was much preferred as a laborer, but that he was becoming so trifling that the plantation management would eventually be compelled to get rid of him. He is paid about double the wages he was ten years ago and he works only about half as many days a week. In other words, he works just enough to keep himself in food and clothes. He doesn't seem to care to accumulate anything. His idleness leads to dissipation of one kind and another, and hence he is deteriorating physically, as well as morally. The high wages that came with the country's prosperity have injured him. Instead of working steadily and providing himself with a good home and comfortable surroundings he squanders what he earns and doesn't more than half utilize his earning power.

It is evident therefore that there is something wrong with the education of the negro. Speaking generally, the kind of learning he gets does him more harm than good. It may be that the preachers and school teachers of the negro race are partly responsible for this condition of things. If they are they ought to make a change in their teaching at once. If the negroes are to amount to anything they must be taught to live clean lives and to be thrifty. Instead of much they are taught in their schools they should be given instruction that would help them to be better and more desirable workers in whatever field of endeavor they seek a livelihood. The white people are almost, if not quite, as much interested in this matter as the negroes are. The negroes, being the servants, laborers, tenant farmers and having places in the trades must be competent and reliable if their services are to be valuable and they are to be desirable citizens. It is the duty therefore of the white people to see to it that they get the right sort of education.

Prosperity on its return march may perchance feel need of occasional rest. A man who has been desperately sick cannot be expected to bloom into ideal Marathon form in an hour. Gee! but it strains a fellow's neck to look at the sky-scrappers now being erected in Jacksonville.

The committee of nine appointed by Governor Hughes of New York to investigate the methods of high finance that obtain among the bulls and bears of Wall Street is now at work. First considered as a huge joke by the money changers of the Wall Street temple of Mammon, the committee is now beginning to make a noise like it means business, and the notorious offenders of "the street" are asking each other if the Governor really intends to inaugurate a real shake up in financial affairs. Horace White, permanent chairman of the committee, has announced that the New York Produce Exchange and the New York Cotton Exchange will first be the subjects of investigation. Later the inner workings of the New York Stock Exchange and the Consolidated Stock Exchange will be looked into. It is expected that the investigation will extend through at least three months. Meanwhile, the wise men of Wall Street are shaking their heads sadly and muttering things about "unsettling business" and "interfering with established conditions." Now that the race track gamblers have been put out of business, and life insurance made fairly respectable and honest, Governor Hughes apparently believes that it is high time for a thorough house-cleaning along Wall Street, and it is not likely that the fearful prognostications of the financiers will deter them from his purpose.

Referring to President Roosevelt's message to the Senate stating that he had directed Attorney-General Bonaparte not to reply to the Senate's resolution of inquiry concerning the merger of the Tennessee Coal and Iron Company with the United States Steel Corporation, Senator Culberson said it was "another arbitrary and lawless act" traced to the chief magistrate of the country, who is not only solemnly obligated to obey the law himself but to see that others do so. Mr. Culberson introduced a resolution instructing the committee on the judiciary to report to the Senate at as early a day as practicable whether in the opinion of that committee the President was authorized to permit the absorption of the Tennessee Coal and Iron Company by the United States Steel Corporation.

HAIR TELLS CHARACTER.

Color of Hair Said to Indicate a Person's Temperament.

Many people believe that blonde, or light hair denotes affection and dark hair constancy. A person without hair is not devoid of character; far from it. The disposition of the average bald-headed man is to show such solicitude for the welfare of others, that he neglects himself. A germ causes baldness. Prof. Sabouraud, of Paris, France, inoculated a rabbit with Dandruff germs, causing it to become totally bald in five weeks' time. To rid the scalp of these dangerous germs it is necessary to apply Newbro's Herpicide.

SIMPLE FAITH.

A Burly Burglar's Confidence in an Editor's Business Acumen.

A man who admitted that he came direct from state prison tried to sell to the city editor of a New York newspaper a weird and startling story of a missing will which he declared had been revealed to him by a fellow convict. He was a burly fellow with a prognathous jaw, and he had lost an eye in battle. The mere look of him would frighten a timid citizen into tremors. Mr. White, the expert in criminology, cross examined the man as follows:

"Why were you in Auburn?"

"Highway" (meaning, of course, highway robbery).

"I suppose you were wrongfully convicted."

"Nuh; dey had me right."

Such engaging candor made Mr. White feel that the man was truthful, and he was greatly disappointed when strict investigation disclosed the fact that the story of the missing will was all fictitious. The man was disappointed, too, at the failure of his romance, but he went away from the newspaper office in cheerful mood, with some remark about better luck next time.

A week later Mr. White was summoned to the reception room of the newspaper, and there he found his friend, the burly highwayman, his shoulders broader, his single eye fiercer than ever. But his visit was quite friendly, although somewhat tinged with business. He evidently believed he could rely on Mr. White's good faith and business acumen. Fixing Mr. White with his glittering eye, the strong armed one plucked him by the sleeve over to a corner of the room and there in a loud, hoarse whisper inquired:

"Say, couldjer do anyting wit' a couple o' watches?"—Harper's Weekly.

Bimini and the Fountain of Youth.

Bimini was a fabulous Island firmly believed in by the Indians of the Antilles, though they could give no further clew to its location than that it lay some hundreds of leagues north of Hispaniola. On this island was the famous fountain of youth, giving perpetual health and vigor. It was the search for this fountain that led Ponce de Leon and Hernando de Soto to Florida, on the outskirts of which the Island was generally supposed to be situated.

E. T. HENDERSON,

(Seal) Justice of the Peace.

"The kind your Grandfather used." Admittedly best for generations past. Better now than ever. Sold by all leading shipping houses.

A Phonetic Purchase.

The late Henry Miller, who was guide, philosopher and friend to many book lovers within a thousand miles of New York, was a most successful salesman. One day he called on Willis P. Huntington and showed him a rare copy of a book.

"There are two volumes of this," said Mr. Miller. "The other volume is in perfect order, as you see this one is. You cannot possibly let them escape you, for you know you have nothing like this in your library."

"What is the price?" asked the railroad king.

"Seven hundred dollars," said the bookman.

"Those are too valuable volumes for my library," Mr. Huntington exclaimed.

Mr. Miller went back to his place and sent the books to Mr. Huntington's house with a bill for $700. Next day the railroad king sent for him.

"Why did you send me those books?" he demanded sharply.

"Because you bought them," was the bookman's calm reply.

"I certainly did not," cried the millionaire.

"Oh, yes, you did!" answered Mr. Miller. "You'll remember perfectly well when I tell you what you said. You told me distinctly, 'Those are two valuable volumes for my library.'"—Harper's Weekly.

A Religious Author's Statement.

For several years I was afflicted with kidney trouble and last winter I was suddenly stricken with a severe pain in my kidneys and was confined to bed eight days unable to get up without assistance. My urine contained a thick white sediment and I passed same frequently day and night. I commenced taking Foley's Kidney Remedy, and the pain gradually abated and finally ceased and my urine became normal. I cheerfully recommend Foley's Kidney Remedy. J. W. McCollum & Co.

His Glasses.

He came home in the small hours of the morning, and his loving spouse confronted him with wrath in her eye and a telegram in her hand, saying, "Here is news that has been waiting for you since supper time."

He blinked, looked wise and, braced up against the batrach, felt through his pockets, murmuring, "I left my glasses down town."

"Yes," she replied, with seething irony, "but you brought the contents with you."

Scientific Spanking

Consists in punishment only when a child is actually bad. Some mothers think that all crying is badness—it's not. When your baby cries, look for pins or some external cause; if you can't find them give the baby White's Cream Vermifuge, as the chances are it is suffering from worms which keep it hungry and cross all the time. Pleasant to take—sure in its action. Price 25 cents. Sold by W. M. Johnson.

Concerning His Kissing of Her.

Only one person with a mean disposition would have figured out this little prose poem. It runs as follows:

Which do you think is the greatest slur?

DID he kiss her?

Did HE kiss her?

Did he KISS her?

Or,

Did he kiss HER?—Cleveland News.

The Great Need.

"Miss Dolly, you know the old adage"—

"I don't want to hear anything about add-ages," she interrupted. "What we girls want is some subtract-ages."—Woman's Home Companion.

Many little lives have been saved by Foley's Honey and Tar, for coughs, colds, croup and whooping cough. It is the only safe remedy for infants and children as it contains no opiates or other narcotic drugs, and children like Foley's Honey and Tar. Careful mothers keep a bottle in the house. Refuse substitutes. J. W. McCollum & Co.

Found Him Guilty.

Counsel (to the jury)—The principal fault of the prisoner has been his unfortunate characteristic of putting faith in thieves and scoundrels of the basest description. I have done. The unhappy man in the dock puts implicit faith in you, gentlemen of the jury!

She Had to Mend Them.

Benham—I believe in putting my best foot forward. Mrs. Benham—I have noticed that your toe always goes right through your stocking.—New York Press.

For a mild, easy action of the bowels, a single dose of Doan's Regulets is enough. Treatment cures habitual constipation. 25 cents a box. Ask your druggist for them.

Don't Worry

If you are sick, don't worry, but begin at once to make yourself well. To do this, we but repeat the words of thousands of other sufferers from womanly ills, when we say:

TAKE CARDUI

J 25
It Will Help You

For 50 years, this wonderful female remedy, has been benefiting sick women. Mrs. Jennie Merrick, of Cambridge City, Ind., says: "I suffered greatly with female trouble, and the doctors did no good. They wanted to operate, but I took Cardui, and it made me feel like a new woman. I am still using this wonderful medicine, with increasing relief."

AT ALL DRUG STORES

A Multiplicity of Fathers.

Ardyce had been learning to sing "America" at school and was trying to teach it to Brother Wayne. One morning his father heard him shouting, "Land where my papa died, land where my papa died."

Ardyce interrupted. "Oh, no, Wayne, not that way. It is 'Land where our fathers died.'"

Wayne's expression could not be described as he tipped his head sideways and in a very surprised tone gravely asked, "Two of 'em?"—Delineator.
